the lawns

If your dream wedding involves golden sunsets, fresh country air, and a backdrop straight out of a romance novel, then say hello to The Lawns at Seppelt Wines. Picture this: you and your favourite people, clinking glasses on lush green grass, with the grand historic homestead behind you and rolling vineyards stretching as far as the eye can see. Towering palms sway gently, vibrant cottage blooms add pops of colour, and vines—some dating back to 1913—whisper stories of a century past.

This dreamy open-air space is as versatile as it is breathtaking. Whether you're envisioning a chic marquee reception, a relaxed garden party with lawn games, or a sunset ceremony under wide-open skies, The Lawns are yours to make magic with. We'll set up a signing table and seating for some of your guests, so all you need to do is soak in the moment.

the barrel hall

Dripping in history and old-world romance, The Barrel Hall at Seppelt Wines is where timeless charm meets effortless elegance. With 170 years of stories etched into its rustic wooden wine barrels, this atmospheric space is pure magic for exchanging vows, capturing breathtaking photos, and celebrating well into the night. Twinkling fairy lights strung across the ceiling add just the right amount of glow, creating an intimate yet grand setting for your reception—whether it's a refined sit-down dinner or a relaxed, graze-all-night affair.

Make it your own with styling that speaks to you—soft florals, moody (battery operated) candles, or a splash of colour to bring your vision to life. With space to seat 60-160 guests or host a cocktail-style celebration for 60-200+, The Barrel Hall is a blank canvas ready to tell your love story—one glass of Seppelt wine at a time.

the 1892 cellar

Some spaces just have that something special—and The 1892 Cellar is one of them. Built in (you guessed it) 1892, this stunning space was once the working winery of Hans Irvine, the estate's second owner. A wealthy businessman with a taste for the finer things, Irvine spared no expense in creating a venue that still turns heads today.

From its rich Jarrah floors to the striking Oregon beams imported from Portland, USA, every detail speaks of history, grandeur, and romance.

Fast forward to now, and The 1892 Cellar is an absolute dream for an elegant, intimate wedding reception. Fairy lights twinkle from above, the polished timber floor is made for dancing, and the whole space carries an air of old-world charm that's impossible to replicate. Whether you're planning a beautifully set sit-down dinner for 40-100 guests or a chic cocktail-style celebration for up to 200, this is where history meets modern-day magic. With round or rectangular tables, white linens, classic chairs, and all the essentials taken care of, The 1892 Cellar is ready for your love story.
